

March 26, 2008

ForbesLife Find of the Day

March 26, 2008 in byline=Lauren Sherman | Permalink | Comments \(0\)

23 Gramercy Park South, $20 million

Single-family homes on Gramercy Park South rarely come on the market. The opportunity to own a property like this four-story, Greek Revival mansion in Manhattan's only private, keyed park is indeed a rarity. The mid-19th century home includes original marble mantelpieces, a stained-glass oval skylight, mahogany floors and a garden. And of course, the owner receives a key to the park.

For more information, visit www.brownharrisstevens.com

--Lauren Sherman